KNIGHT TO PITCH ON OPENING DAY WITH SALT LAKE

The Ogden baseball team opens a series tomorrow afternoon at Glenwood with the Salt Lake team. This series has been looked forward to by the local players and fans with considerable interest.

Owing to the necessity of having to cut down the squad to the official number allowed under the rules, George Wessler, the native utility man, was released today. In speaking of Wessler's release, Manager Glinn stated that it had only been done on account of the rules. The club still has too many men on its list but as a couple of them are on the sick list and probably will be unable to play for some weeks, the present string of players will be kept until the sick recover.

Kitty Knight has been slated to pitch for the Canners tomorrow, while Allen, a southpaw, will be on the mound for the Sea Gulls.

MAN WHO ENDED HIS OWN LIFE HAS BEEN IDENTIFIED

Through a copy of a bulletin issued by the police department of Los Angeles, on May 8th, the officers of the Ogden department believe that the identity of the man who shot himself at the police station a couple of weeks ago has been discovered. While looking over the bulletin today, Chauffeur Guy Nelson's attention was drawn to the photograph of a man wanted by the Los Angeles police, under the name of George Fisher, but whose real name was said to be George Boas. In reading the description of the man, Nelson, who had made a close inspection of the body of the suicide, whose name was thought to be Muller, became convinced that the description of Boas tallied with that of Muller. He called Chief Norton's attention to the matter and, after studying the photograph and the description he came to the same conclusion.

Guard Henry Lever, who had also made a close inspection of the alleged Muller's body was called in. He went to the Kirkendall undertaking establishment and, after a talk with Mr. Kirkendall, agreed with the other officers on the identification. The body of Muller was buried at the expense of the city several days ago, with no name being placed on the burial description.

According to the description of Boas, in the Bulletin, and that of Muller, given by the officers, he was an American Jew, about 36 years old, weighed about 125 pounds, had curly brown hair, one leg was shorter than the other and one of his feet was deformed.

Boas was wanted on the coast for larceny and was arrested here for having procured a ring from a woman under the guise of a federal officer.

CARRIED AWAY THE HOSPITAL SERUM IN HIS BODY

In municipal court today but two penalties were meted out by the judge. W. A. Williams was given 5 days and Frank Smith 1 day. Williams was tried Saturday morning on the charge of disturbing the peace of G. Denkers and J. Shields by threatening to "chop them up." After the hearing, the case was taken under advisement.

Smith was arrested Saturday morning by Chief Norton at Orchard avenue and Twenty-fifth street, on the charge of vagrancy. He pleaded guilty and was let off easy.

The most interesting case of the session was that of the City vs. C. B. O'Connor. The defendant was charged in the complaint with obtaining a certain amount of anti-pneumococcal serum from the Dee hospital, under false pretenses. He was arraigned Saturday and pleaded not guilty.

The city's witnesses were Dr. E. M. Connor and Miss Hart, night matron at the hospital. According to their testimony, O'Connor carried away about $10 worth of the serum in his system as a part of the treatment which he received at the hospital. He went to the hospital about three weeks ago, they said, to undergo treatment for pneumonia. At that time, he represented to them that he had money in a deposit box in a certain bank and was well able to pay his expenses.

In order to make this statement look good, until he was able to leave the hospital, during his period of convalescence, he ordered a rig several times from a local livery stable and took several drives. He also acted the part of a man of means in other ways.

Just before he was ready to leave the hospital, he was approached for settlement of his account and did not have the necessary funds to pay up. He then said that he had some friends whom he had helped out on several occasions and that he would write to them for money. He failed to acknowledge the appeal. He was then arrested on complaint of the hospital officials.

O'Connor in presenting his story, did not deny that he had gotten into the hospital by misrepresenting his financial condition, but said he would like to get out so as to obtain money to pay his debt to the physician and the hospital. The case was taken under advisement.

Charles Anderson and Clay Martin were tried on the charge of indecent exposure and their case was taken under advisement.

John Landas, a drunk, was given a suspended sentence. W. M. Terry, R. Terry, G. C. Clantze, J. E. Clantze and Tom G. Clantze were arraigned on the charge of disturbing the peace. They pleaded not guilty and the trial was set for tomorrow morning. The men were arrested at the Little Queen saloon by Patrolmen Blackburn and Hearn, Saturday evening.

John Doe, a drunk, forfeited $5 bail.

KRUTTSCHNITT ON HIS WAY TO PACIFIC COAST

Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of the executive board of the Southern Pacific Railroad company, is expected to arrive in Ogden tomorrow, accompanied by Superintendent W. M. Jeffers of the Wyoming division of the Union Pacific. The two are enroute to the Pacific coast and it is reported that Mr. Jeffers is due for a promotion.

WHIPPING OF CHILD IN SCHOOL BRINGS STRONG PROTEST

Mrs. Florence O'Neill Stanford, city recorder, has a grievance against Hyrum Belnap, a teacher in the Lewis school, for corporal punishment inflicted on her 13-year-old son, Neill. She insists that Mr. Belnap should be dismissed from the school service and that by all means he should not be employed by the board the ensuing year.

Mrs. Stanford's communication to the board of education follows: "I hereby prefer charges against Hyrum Belnap, a teacher in the Lewis school for cruel and unnecessary punishment inflicted upon my son, Neill Stanford, on Thursday, the 14th day of May, 1914, while the boy was attending school.

"My son is 13 years of age, and the punishment inflicted consisted of knocking him out of his seat, churning him up and down in the seat, and thereafter striking him with his hand partly closed, on the ear and on the side of his head, and that said strokes were of such a nature that they left an imprint upon the boy's face for more than forty-eight hours thereafter, and the stroke on the side of the head affected the ear-drum to such an extent that I found it necessary to have the ear-drum treated by Dr. S. L. Brick of this city, and the boy is still under the care of said physician.

"I ask that a thorough investigation be made, and I stand ready at any time to appear before the board with testimony to substantiate the statements herein made, and I insist that any man who so far forgets his duty as Mr. Belnap did in this instance, is an unfit person to be a teacher and should be discharged.

Very respectfully,

(Signed)
 "MRS. FLORENCE O. STANFORD."

Mrs. Stanford states that her son is an apt student and he was treated harshly without just cause. She says that the physician treating the boy's ear states that the drum of the ear was ruptured by the blow and that considerable time will elapse before it can be stated just what the results will be. Speaking of the affair this morning Mrs. Stanford said:

"I called the attention of Superintendent J. M. Mills to the condition of my son last week and insisted that Belnap be brought to an accounting. The superintendent said that it was strictly against the rules of the school for a teacher to inflict corporal punishment and that he would reprimand the teacher. That, however, does not satisfy me, as I consider children too precious to be brutally punished and I think that the teacher who is guilty of such a thing should not be retained. My boy is a good student and is always well up in his class. He is only 13 years old and is in the seventh grade. He may be permanently injured because of the maltreatment by this teacher."

In an interview today, Superintendent Mills stated that he had called the attention of the teacher to the complaint that had been made against him and reprimanded him. Mr. Mills stated, however, that he did not think the boy was injured in any way by the slap which was given him by the teacher. He said that the teacher told him that the boy was not attending to his studies in the study room as he should and that he simply "shook him up a little" and slapped him on the face. The superintendent states that the teacher has promised that such a thing will not occur again.

Teacher Makes Reply.
 Mr. Belnap, in response to a Standard reporter, stated that he had occasion to reprimand young Stanford for not studying and that the boy persisted in looking out of the window, unheeding instructions.

"I shook the lad for not obeying and slapped him once on the face. I am certain that it did not hurt him and I was not angry at the time. I understand that the boy ran against a pole some time ago and injured his ear. I did not strike his ear but simply slapped him slightly on the side of the face."

AMATEUR VERSE BY AN OGDEN STUDENT

LeRoy Leishman, a student of Weber academy, eighteen years of age, has published a collection of his poems from the time he was thirteen, and, under the title of "Amateur Verse," the young man's literary efforts are being placed at the book stores, on Tuesday and Wednesday this week.

There is much merit in the poems and no doubt the booklet will be well received.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, May 18.—Wheat today showed strength on account of continued spread of Hessian fly damage to crops. Nebraska and Iowa sent complaints as well as Kansas, Missouri and Illinois. Profit taking by bulls, however, caused a reaction. The market opened a shade off to 1-2c up, and made a slight further gain, but then lost virtually all of the advance.

Dry weather and firm cables gave a lift to corn. Buying power, though, was soon exhausted. Prices started a sixteenth down to 1-16 3/8c higher, and after a little additional rise fell back to about Saturday night's level.

Oats were governed by the action of wheat and corn. Demand was only scattered but offerings too were light. Provisions responded to an upturn in the hog market. Selling, which came chiefly from packers, did not assume a burdensome volume. Renewed strength developed in wheat as a result of predictions that before the end of the week Hessian fly damage would be noticeable in most of the territory from Ohio to Oklahoma. The close was unsettled, 1-8 1/4c lower to 1-2c higher, compared with Saturday night.

The corn market later broke sharply on account of increased offerings here to arrive. The close was nervous, 5-8 to 7-8c net lower.

CONDITION OF MEN SERIOUS.
 Halifax, N. S., May 18.—The United States revenue cutter Seneca arrived here today with the four survivors of the burned steamer Columbian, whom she picked up from their small boat forty miles south of Sable Island at 1 o'clock yesterday morning.

The condition of the men is serious, but it is believed they will live.
"Suburb."
 When did the word "suburb" first find its way into the language? It is used in a recently discovered fourteenth century ordinance of the City Guild of Carpenters providing that the members should attend the funeral of anyone of the fraternity resident within the city "or in the suburbs." The natural inference is that even then it was part of the everyday talk of the citizens.—Fall Mall Gazette.

Have a Fire-Extinguisher.
 A reliable fire-extinguisher, which throws chemicals instead of water, should hang in every home, in the barn and in the stable. Seconds are precious when fire breaks out, and the small, inexpensive extinguishers are so simple of use and quick of action that they at once arrest the progress of a small blaze. Motorists have found the little extinguisher invaluable.

Best Tree for the Street.
 The American elm has many times demonstrated its superior value as a street or lawn tree. It is not nearly so subject to disease or insects as many other trees.
